

Basics 1 & 2 - Podcast Playlist

There is no required reading for the morning Basics classes. However, we have put together a podcast playlist that we recommend as an introduction.

In terms of content, the playlist is intended to provide an introduction to some of the central concepts and debates of the respective Basics course on the one hand, and complementary thought-food on the other - sometimes loosely connected to the issue at hand.

This is a Spotify playlist. If you don't have a Spotify account, you can also find all episodes for free by doing a Google search. The playlist is structured chronologically. The titles of the episodes are listed below and assigned to the Basics course they are supposed to introduce.

Have fun listening! Link to playlist
